

Sean,

To a really nice guy.
Good luck on exams and with the girls. Have a great summer and I hope to see you next year.

Tonya

Sean,

Look I get to sign next to TONYA. That's nice of you to save this spot just for me.
Since you did that I'll have to wish you good luck on Exams, and I'll see you at the Beach.

Billy

Sean,
You're one of the cutest guys in our class
so hold on & stick with us but for god's sake don't let it go to your head! Your mally did us a great favor when you moved here. Sometimes I wonder whether your elevator goes all the way to the top but I guess hanging around w/
Curtis Shufflett accounts for that!

Sean, I'm glad I got to know you
this year.
Good Luck!
Love,
Kim

P.S. You cool!

Sean,
You're a great guy (I even in your uncle's
in the mafia)
Best of luck.
Love,

Sean,
We haven't been
to good of friends this year, but we still are friends. Keep up with the buttons.
ERIC BITTMAN

To a nice guy
and a stray cat
fan. good luck
always. Boo

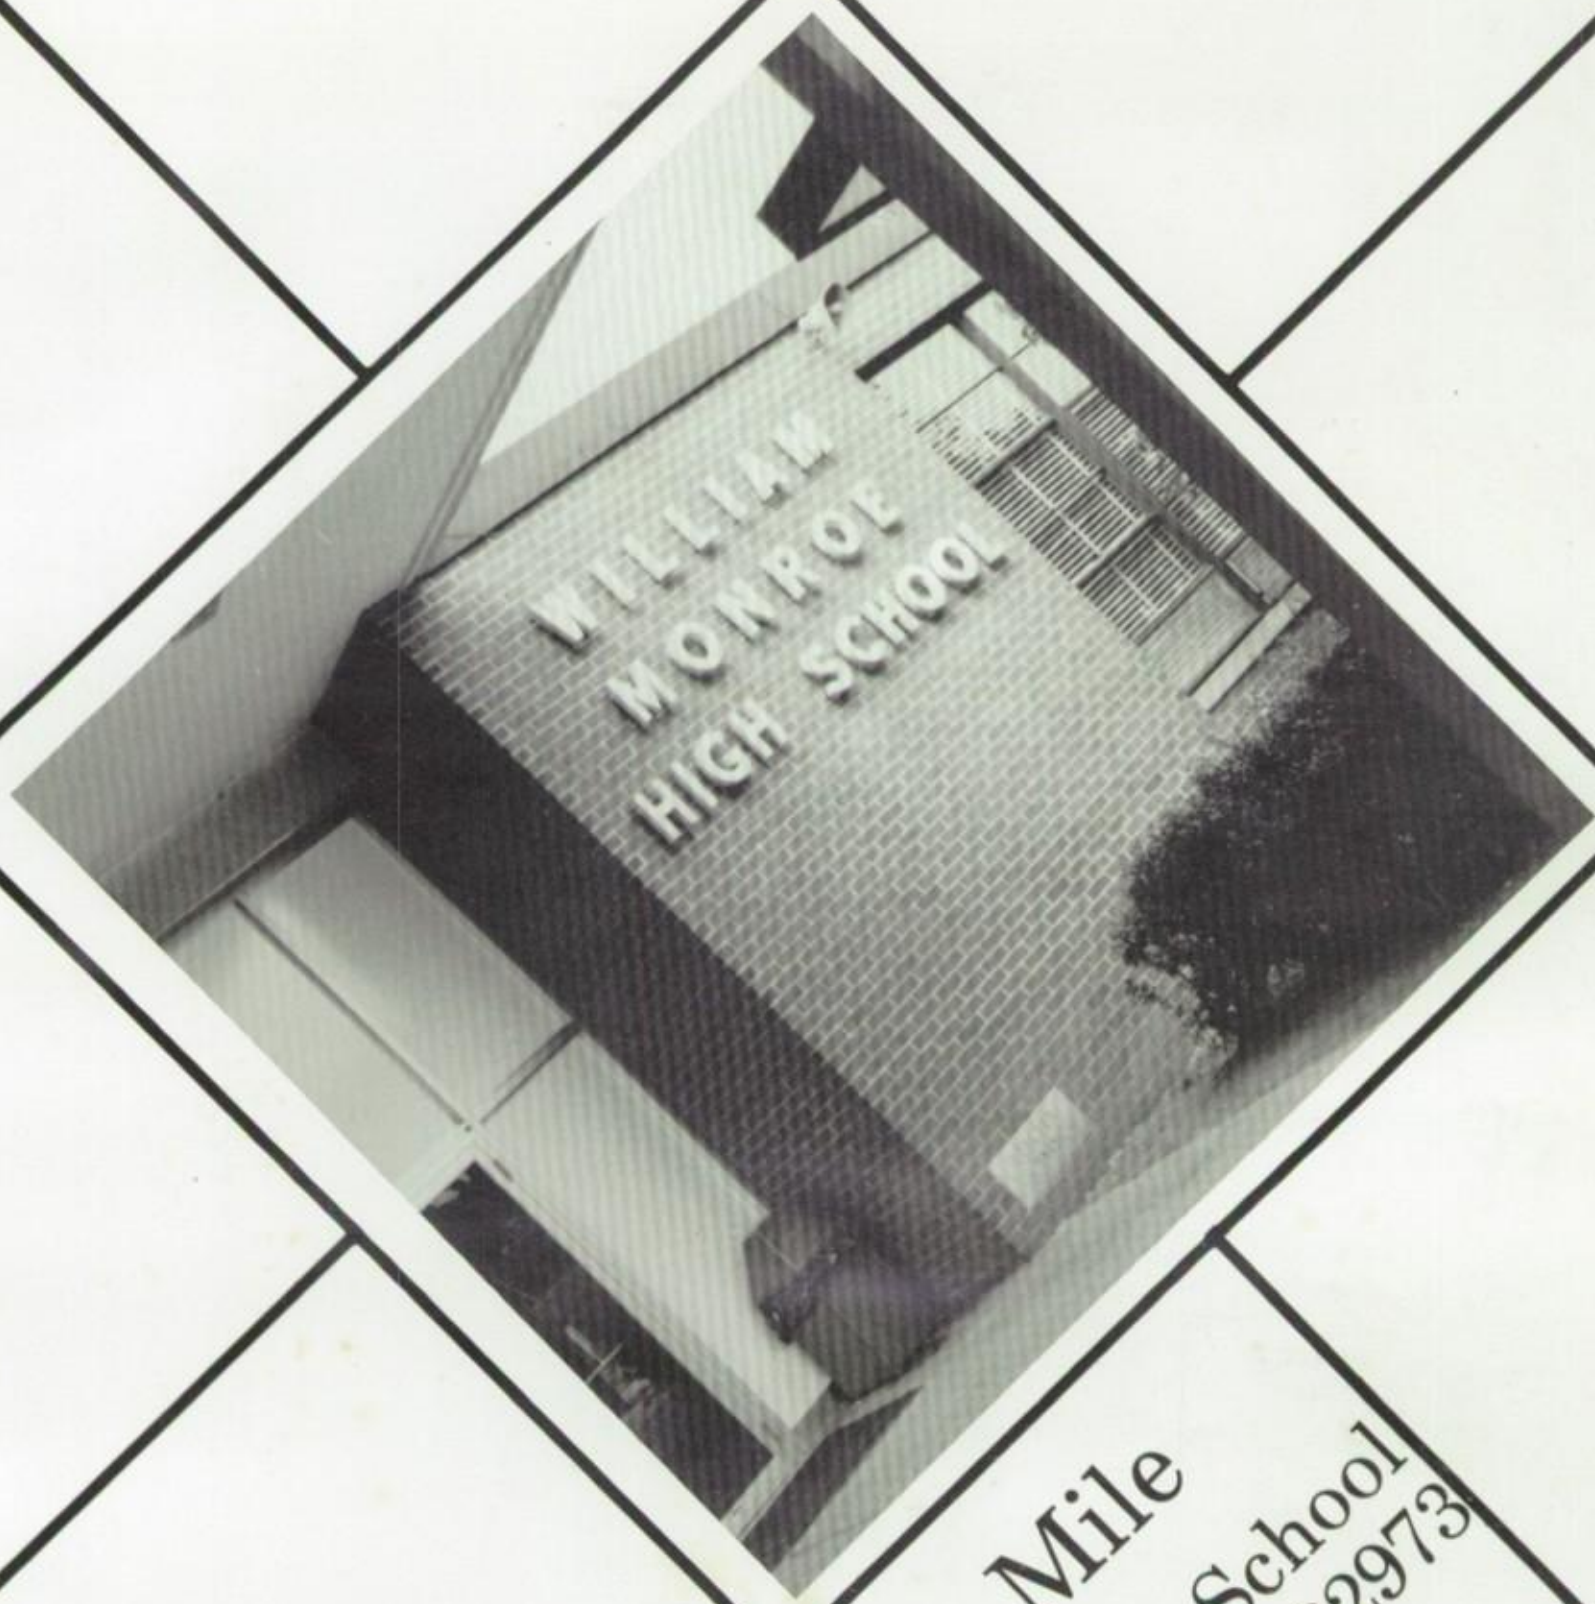

Sean,
To a real nice guy who was lots of fun in class. Have a great summer.
Susan Jenkins

To a very good friend who I have enjoyed knowing.
Good luck in the future.
Troy Vann

Thumper,
To a very short
but cool dude.
Always had fun
hanging with you.
Friends,

IT'S YOUR MOVE

In the game of chess, each move is essential to the next as is each move a student makes in his or her journey through school. The move is slow at first. Each step is taken with caution. Each move is in the direction of a specific goal . . . graduation.

The young eighth grade pawns are moving in a world of locker combinations, gym suits and new found freedoms. They are waiting to move on as freshmen knights, where being a knight, in the game of chess, is a move forward. The knight is able to capture the pawn in the strategy of the board. A sophomore bishop knows the game rules and has the confidence of having played the game for three years. The junior rook moves and captures the events of the year, busy with homecoming and prom activities. The junior is preparing the ultimate move to capture the position of the Queen. The senior Queen is able to move to conquer the game . . . education.

NEW RULES

"NO STREET SHOES ALLOWED ON GYM FLOOR."

This is just one of the many rules the students must follow! After a long year of construction and much anticipation, the new gym was finally opened this fall. The much awaited event brought with it good luck for the Lady Dragons with an opening win over Fluvanna!

Two fierce dragons and blocked letters WM grace the hardwood floor while the green and white surroundings can house 1000 students.

Tennis shoes can be found everywhere at WMHS.

Lisa Roach participates in spirit week.

Troy Vann admires the new gym during third period.

Day One

DATE: August 29

TIME: 7 a.m.

DESTINATION: Back To School

... Buzz ... the alarm ... hot shower ... new outfit ... cold toast ... rush for the bus ...

All these events have taken place and it's only 8:34 a.m. Another bell rings and it's time for homeroom. It's the first day of the '84 school year. Friends talk, and couples hold hands as the flow of students down the hall is accompanied by the sound of laughter and slamming lockers.

... 4 min. bell ... first class of the new school year begins. Students settle in their desks. The halls become silent as each teacher closes their classroom door. How much happens behind closed doors is up to each student as they buckle down for a year of study, challenges, and fun.

Gina Haney focuses in on the student life at WMHS.

Barry Bryant reads about Grandma Moses in the Art and Man Magazine.

Angie Deane types a report for Mr. Twyman's Class.

Surprise! Mr. Heubach races out of the school during a fire drill.

For once, "inspiration tree" is empty.

Judy Snow reads a magazine in the library during her study hall.

Melissa Brock copies her assignment from the board.

Kenny Brock listens to Mr. Heubach's lecture on grammar.

PULLITIS

The halls were filled with mass confusion while the rain poured outside. On October 21 at 12:15, the students beat a path toward the door as the fire alarm sounded. Soaked and still confused, they returned to class to find someone had a case of "PULLITIS" and it was a false alarm.

Jeff Davis sits in the library with his book, in the "world of make-believe."

Mr. Haney's third period chemistry class finishing the last results of a lab project.

Who is the hidden person behind camera?

Luke Collins is learning the art of electricity.

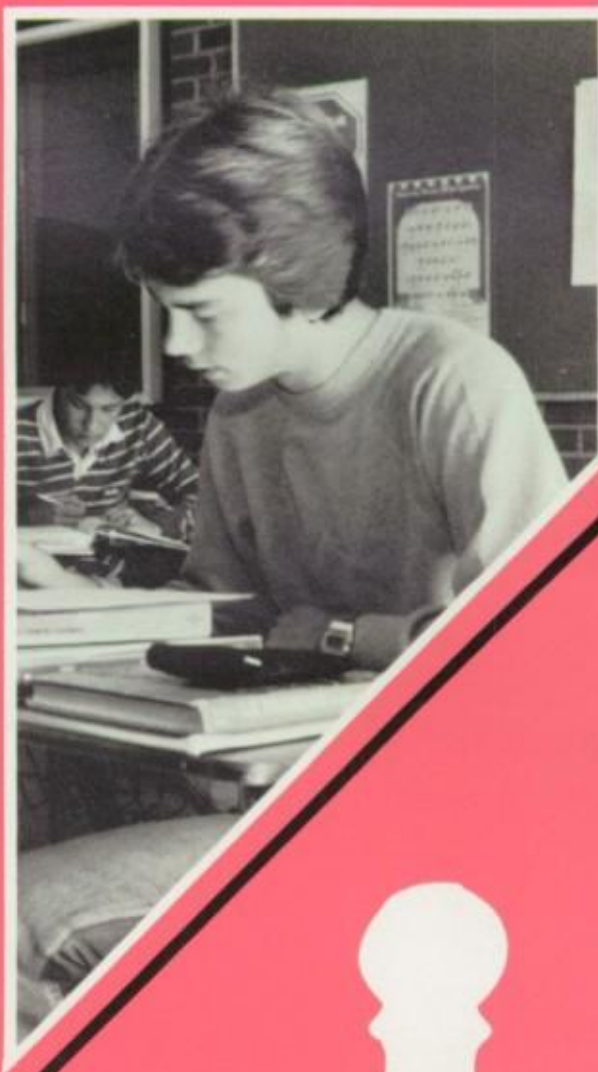

Paul Lamm and Tammy Harlow make the most of the short lunch period.

A New Time

"BEAT IT", "SAY, SAY, SAY", and "PYT", are just a few of the sounds coming from the new juke box located in the cafeteria. The students use their thirty minute lunch period for recreational and social activities. If you're not listening to the sounds of the eighties, then you may find yourself engaged in a game of basketball or horseshoes.

The lazy autumn breeze finds the crowd bundled in coats and hats as they enter the halls for their afternoon classes.

Terry Baugher cracks down on Calculus.

After 3:03

Ring It's 3:03. The halls are filled with laughter as another day at WMHS comes to an end. Oops! It's not the end of a school day for some of us. The football team trudges to the fieldhouse to ready themselves for another practice with Coaches: Mooney, Burch and Michie. The varsity girls basketball team finds themselves sharing the gym floor with the J.V.'s as they make a fast break for the basket.

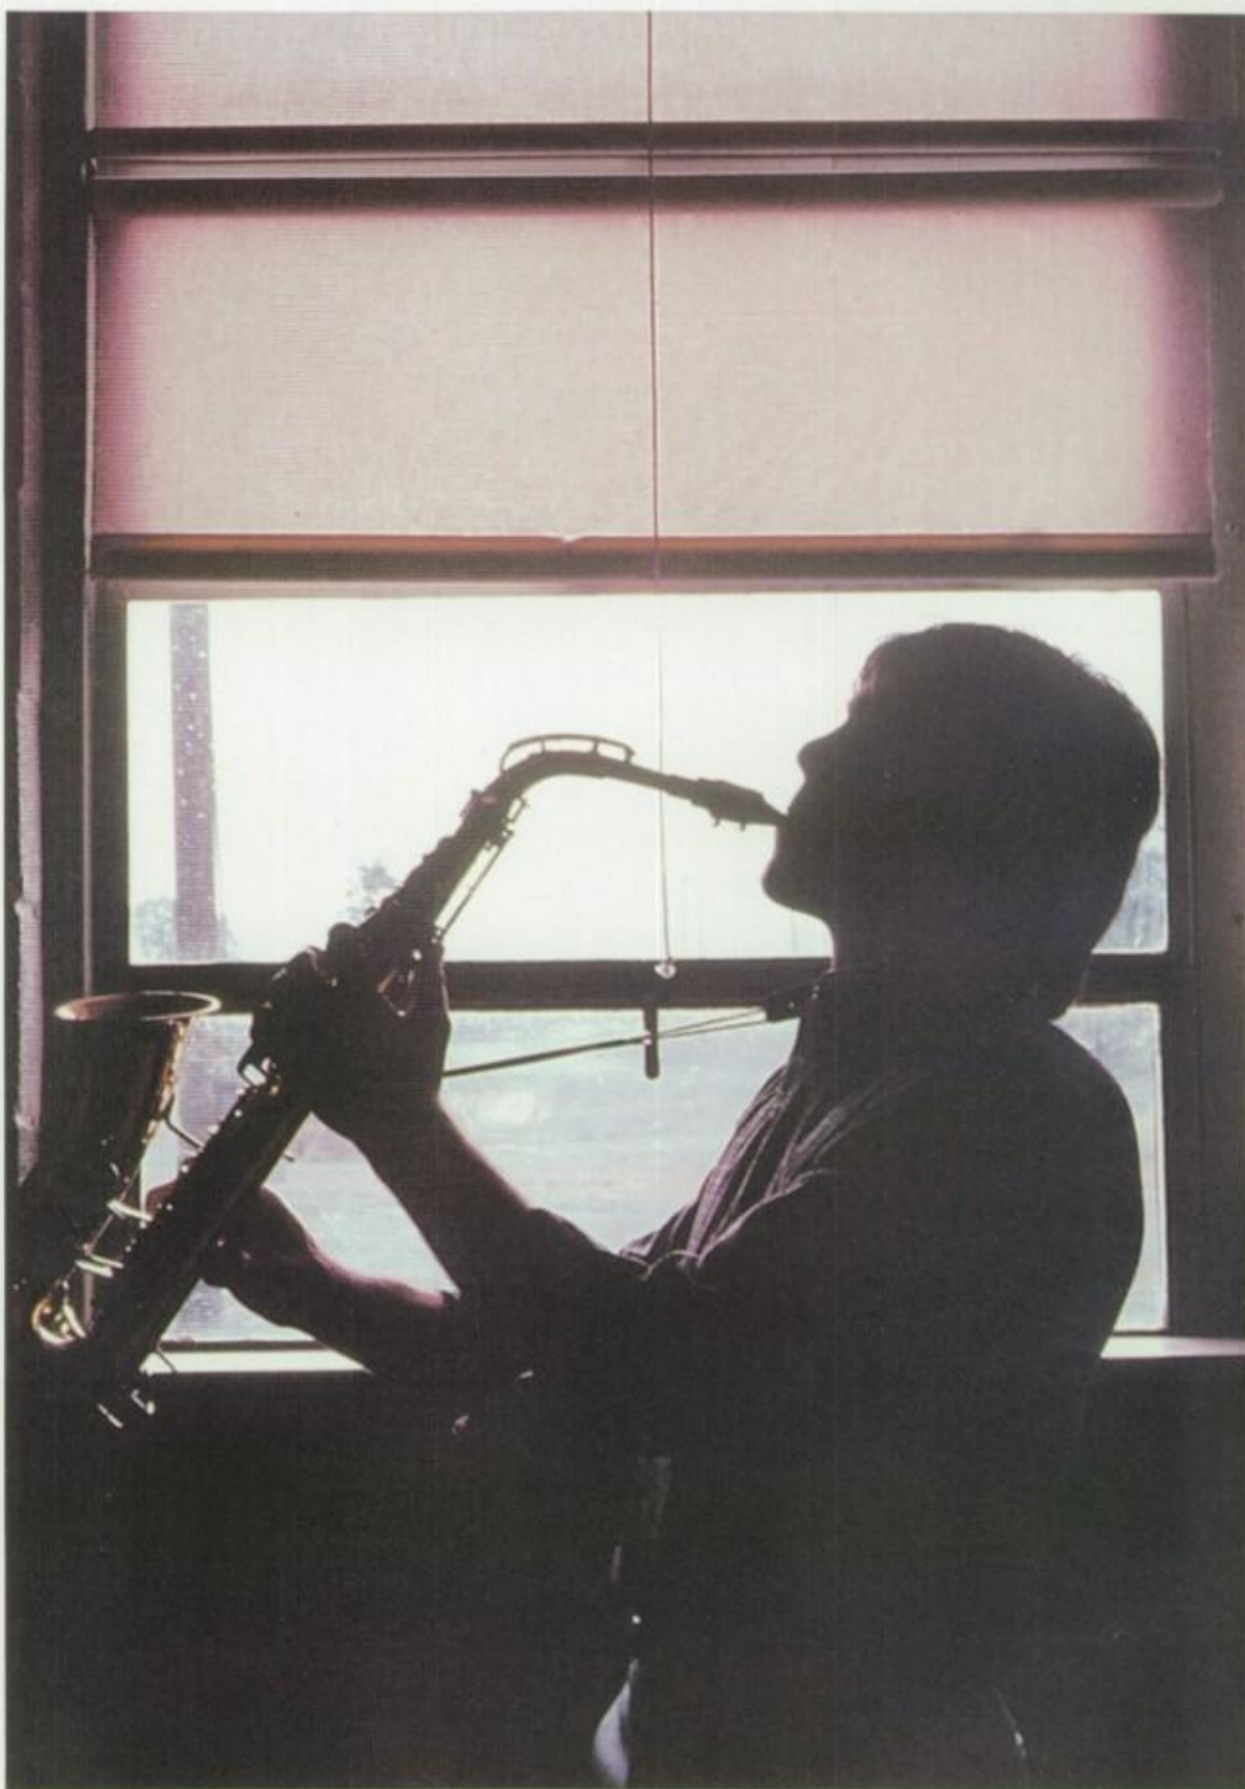

Noise, music, and "Alright, do it over!" comes from the cafeteria as the cheerleaders continue their practices to lead the Dragon teams VICTORY!

There's someone working in the office, someone in the computer room and club meetings here and there.

The sound of the bell at 3:03 sure sounds good - - - but the work goes on!

Sandra Shifflet does her math assignment in class.

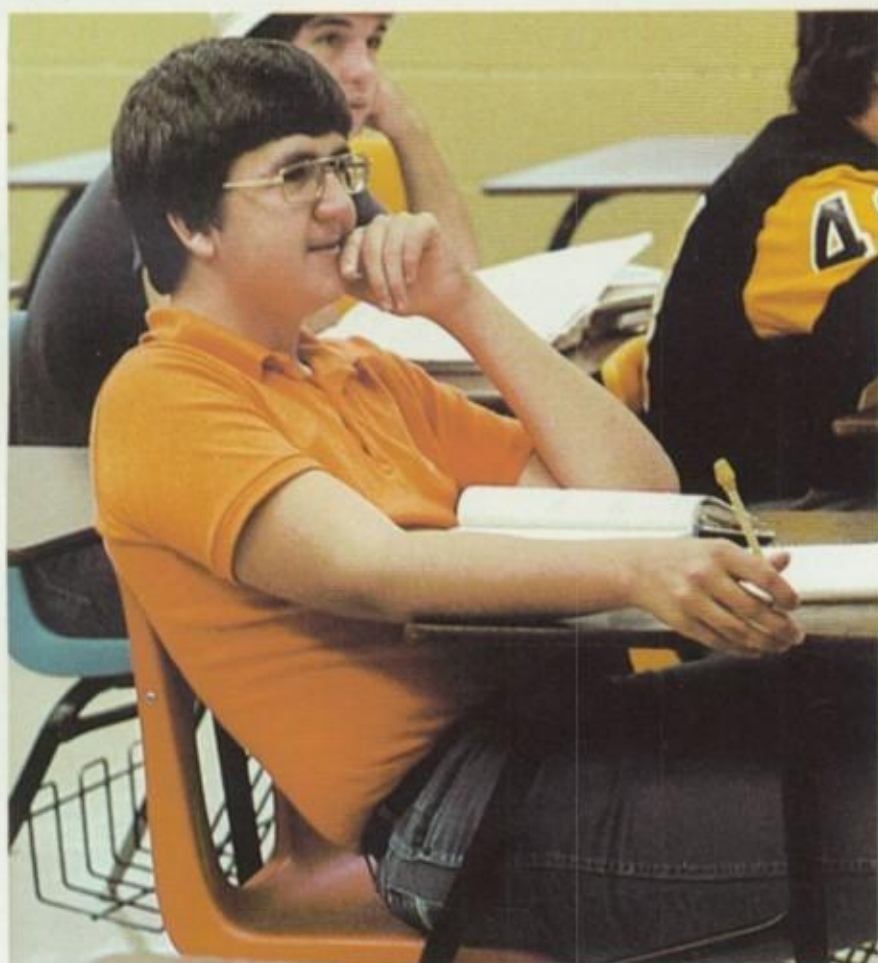

A lone band player practices for the up and coming concert.

Monica Cox prepares to leave school at 3:03.

Lois Williams deep in thought while reading her book in the library during study hall.

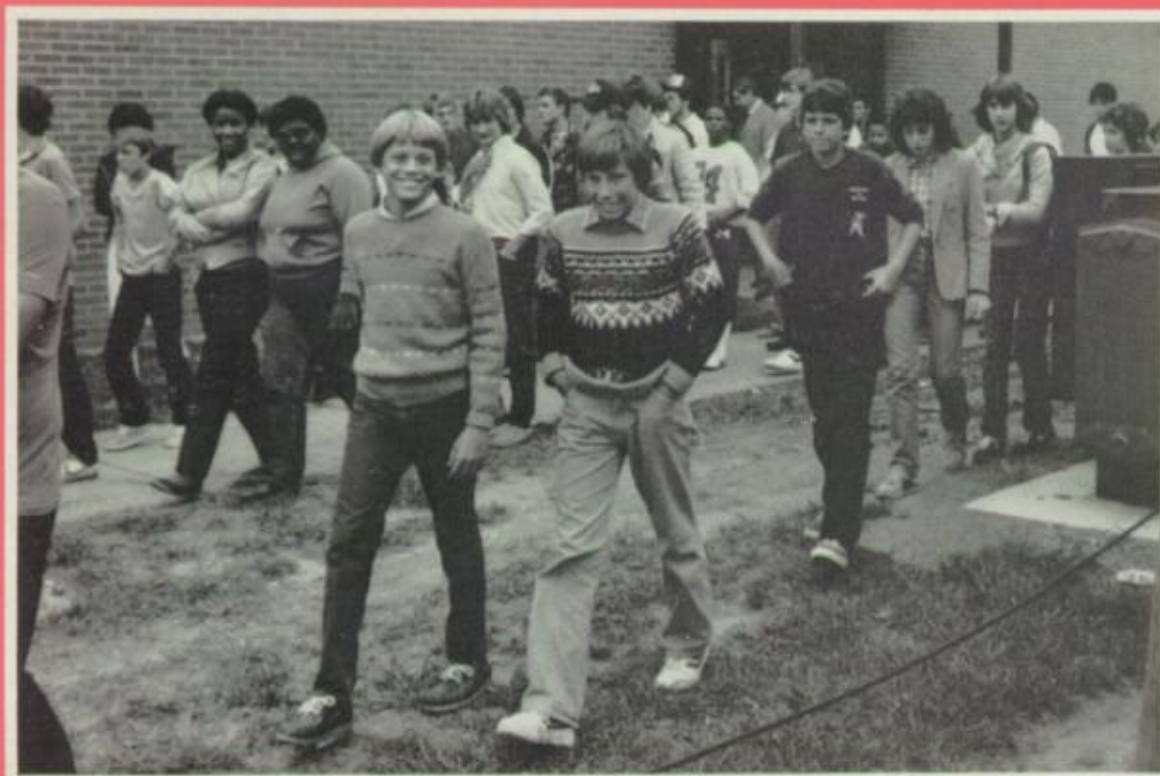

Rodrick Rhodes listens carefully and shows great interest in his math class.

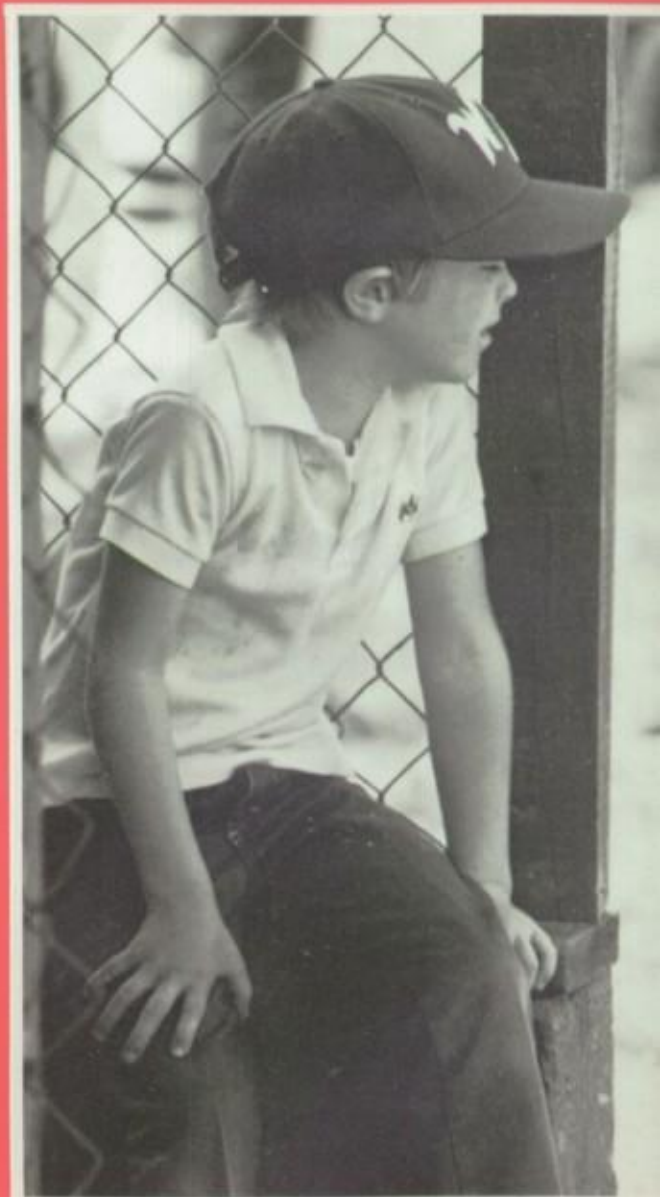

knight to king bishop 3 . . .

Tami Champion and Tracey Kirby relax during an early release to watch a softball game.

Toby Tyler and Eric Bittmann enjoy getting out of class for a fire drill.

John Martin Mooney finds a safe place to watch the baseball game.

Rules, Rules . . .

Rules, Rules, Rules . . .

Each year new rules are added to the list of old ones. 1983-84 was no exception.

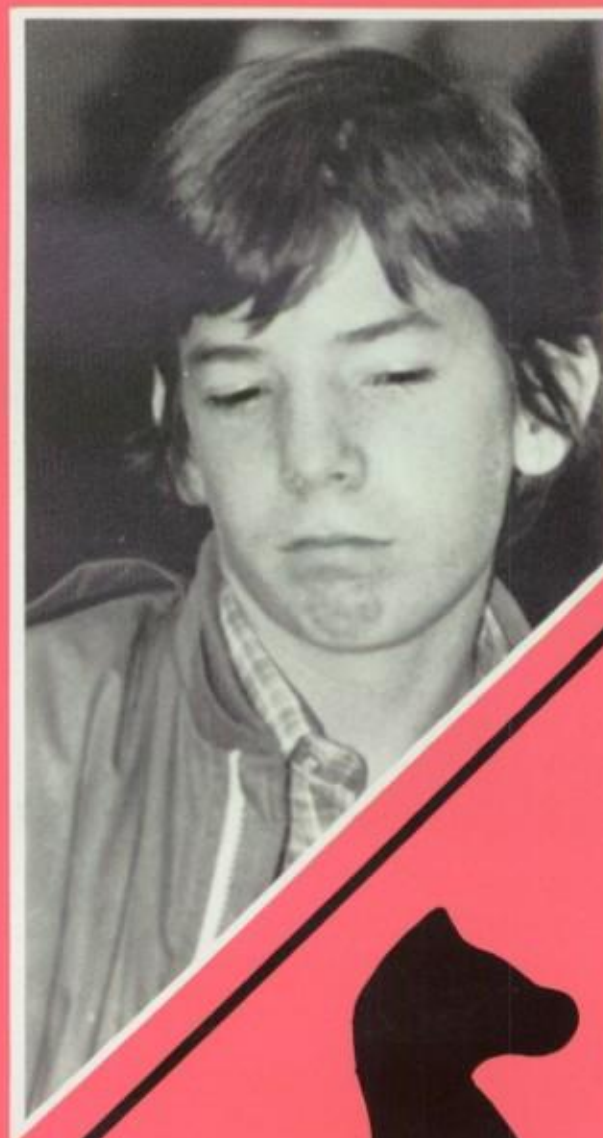

-Only Juniors and Seniors are allowed to park in the student parking lot.

-Students are permitted to stand in the old gym before homeroom.

-New drink machines in the cafeteria lobby will be open from 3:05-3:25 daily.

-You must purchase a ticket before homeroom to receive ice-cream during lunch.

Rules, Rules, Rules . . . There are many more that we must follow. In playing any game we must follow rules, and school is no exception.

Stephanie Shifflett works on her texture project in an Art I class.

SENIORS

Students At Work

How often do you go into a store and recognize one of the employees as a WMHS senior. Many seniors hold down part-time jobs ranging from flipping hamburgers to mending fences. What a pleasure to have your groceries checked by Jodi Shifts! If you go into Curly's Garage, you may see Chris McDaniel and Kevin Gilbert. And at Bonanza, there's Dwayne Lindsay. Mark Shotwell and Alan Bittmann in Charlottesville. A job can be quite a challenge while in school, but many students find part-time jobs a means to pay for cars, hobbies, or a college education. Here's to those who are brave enough to take that challenge!

Senior craze takes hold of these WMHS students.

SENIOR CRAZE

The senior craze is a very contagious disease, but detected early may be cured. It strikes without warning! Some of the earlier symptoms are fits of laughter, a very large appetite and a non-stop verbal chatter. You may notice a dramatic increase in height, but after 180 days the symptoms seem to vanish and the young seniors are back to normal. They are now ready to advance to the next square in the game of life.

The Mighty, Mighty Seniors

They leave for lunch early stopping by their large lockers to place a notebook. They stroll with ease to be first in the lunch line. There's a certain dullness to their class ring. Everyone knows their names He's the captain of this, the president of that! And then, everyone rises as they march into an assembly and sit on the first row.

Who are these people? They're the mighty, mighty seniors who have earned every privilege granted to them their last year of high school. They have worked hard to reach this point in their school career and will work even harder to get through the months leading to graduation. Do you see anyone else sweating a government test or saying a prayer on the way to Mrs. McHale's English class? What is it like to know this will be the last Homecoming game you'll play in? And what about the friends you will leave, the faces you'll miss seeing, and the bond with WMHS as it fades in the years to come.

Seniors have it made! Well, that's only a matter of opinion. Look up to them for they soon will be gone!!

JUNIORS

PSAT's

Stop, put down your pencils and close your test booklets. The junior year meant PSAT's in the fall. This test prepares the students for the SAT's in the spring. The juniors nervously awaited the test results that would be accepted by the college of their choice. The anticipation could be felt by all the students as they prepared themselves for their future goals.

Confused, disoriented and being the new kids in school, the eighth graders found their new environment a little scary. Everything seemed so big and the upperclassmen so tall that the peons realized that survival wasn't going to be easy.

As familiar faces were recognized and new acquaintances made, the tiny peons pushed and shoved their way into the spirit of W.M.H.S.

ADMINISTRATIVE AND FACULTY

Advantage

The faculty gives the students a chance for education. They provide the opportunity to learn and develop new ideas. Without them, learning would be impossible.

All employees of W.M.H.S. aid in the learning process by performing their different tasks. Thanks go to the faculty for an excellent job of making 1983-1984 run so smoothly.

Position

The Greene County Education Association has finally taken root again at WMHS.

The GCEA is a part of the Virginia Education Association, which is in turn, a member of the National Education Association. The main goal of this professional organization, is to improve education and teaching condition. The GCEA benefits it's members with Tort insurance, legal council, and shopping discounts. The issues covered by the GCEA concern salary, retirement, materials and class size. To keep members up to date on happenings, there are monthly magazines and newsletters.

The organization enables the teacher to keep abreast of current events concerning their state and county in education.

They sponsor in-services for teachers, in retirement benefits and salary proposals.

Members are also encouraged to attend state and national conventions to share ideas and concerns with other teachers.

"May I have the pass to the bathroom?" The aids hear this many times during mornings and at lunch.

However, the aids are more than monitors. Mrs. Hoffman rushes to Mrs. Valentyi's room to help tutor a student in reading, while Mrs. Sensabaugh works the copy machine, administers tests, and helps students with classwork for Miss O'Brien and Miss Woodward. Mrs. Powell follows the scent of food to the Home Economic's room, where she helps Mrs. Spencer and Mrs. Decker. From there she will go to the office services room to do paperwork. Mrs. Eppard, better known as "Detention Woman," is busy keeping records of students receiving demerits, and making sure the IN-School-Suspension list is up to date.

The school wouldn't run as smoothly as it does without the help of others.

A Race To Eat

A new cafeteria and a new lunch schedule faced the WMHS students this year.

The moans and groans could be heard for weeks as the students adjusted to their 30 minute lunch period.

The bell rings at 11:41 for the first group of students to eat after 30 minutes they report to their fourth period class. After 15 minutes the second group reports to lunch.

After entering the cafeteria the students enter either of the two lunch lines where they have a choice of a variety of entrees. Then the WMHS students can listen to their favorite tunes, while enjoying their mid-day meal.

Through it's a race to eat, everyone manages to survive.

Kenny Williams prepares a fruit salad for lunch.

The cafeteria workers are Mrs. Brill, Mrs. Morris, Mrs. Parrott, Mr. Williams, and Mrs. Lawson.

Doris Lawson is carefully filling the larger cooker for the days meal.

Mrs. Brill dices cucumber for individual salads.

Mrs. Gibson polishes the trophy case in the new lobby.

Greg Dean, is WMHS night custodian.

Mr. Knight is a jack of all trades as our daily custodian.

Mr. Vernon, custodian for Vo-Tech school, keeps busy with odd jobs.

SPORTS

Recapture

The sports scene brings many glorious moments to fans across the nation. From Charlottesville Virginia home of the greatest college basketball teams, to Baltimore MD, home of the World Champion Orioles. We can see sports play a prominent role in the lives of Americans.

So sit back and let your fingers do the walking as we give you sports Dragon style!

Fly-ball

Going, going. . . gone! Leonard Sheler has just belted his 3rd homerun of the year!

Although the 1982-83 Dragon baseball team finished at 6-12, the year was filled with many exciting moments. Seniors Carroll Richardson and Steve Harris along with Junior Leonard Sheler led the dragons, with additional help coming from Sophomores Danny Brown and Greg Morris. The best game by far for the Dragons was a 7-6 rallying victory over the Luray Bulldogs, which was seen by the whole student body! Even though graduation marked the loss of six seniors, a nucleus of rising Juniors should return the Dragons to playoff form.

A Leap Forward

The boys and girls track teams each faired well in 1982-1983. The boys sent six runners to state and four placed. Allen Harris got 2nd in the 440, Kenny Smith got 3rd in the discus, Harry Blakey got 3rd in the mile, and Derek Dye got 2nd in the two mile.

Even though the girls did not send any runners to state, Wanda Williams and Bessie Fields each placed respectively in the discus. Wanda was selected most valuable runner for the girls track season.

The buzzer sounded and the last time-out was called. The young lady dragons needed only two points against Page.

Back on the court Jennifer Fitzhugh gained control of the ball, and with the aid of her teammates scored.

Although a young team the J.V. Girl's Basketball squad proved themselves as a hard working team and one with lots of spirit. Captains, Jennifer Fitzhugh and Stephanie Shifflett led the team to a 5-10 record. With Salita Sullivan and Michelle Carpenter returning, we can expect great things from Ms. Brown and her lady dragons next year.

YOUNG TALENT

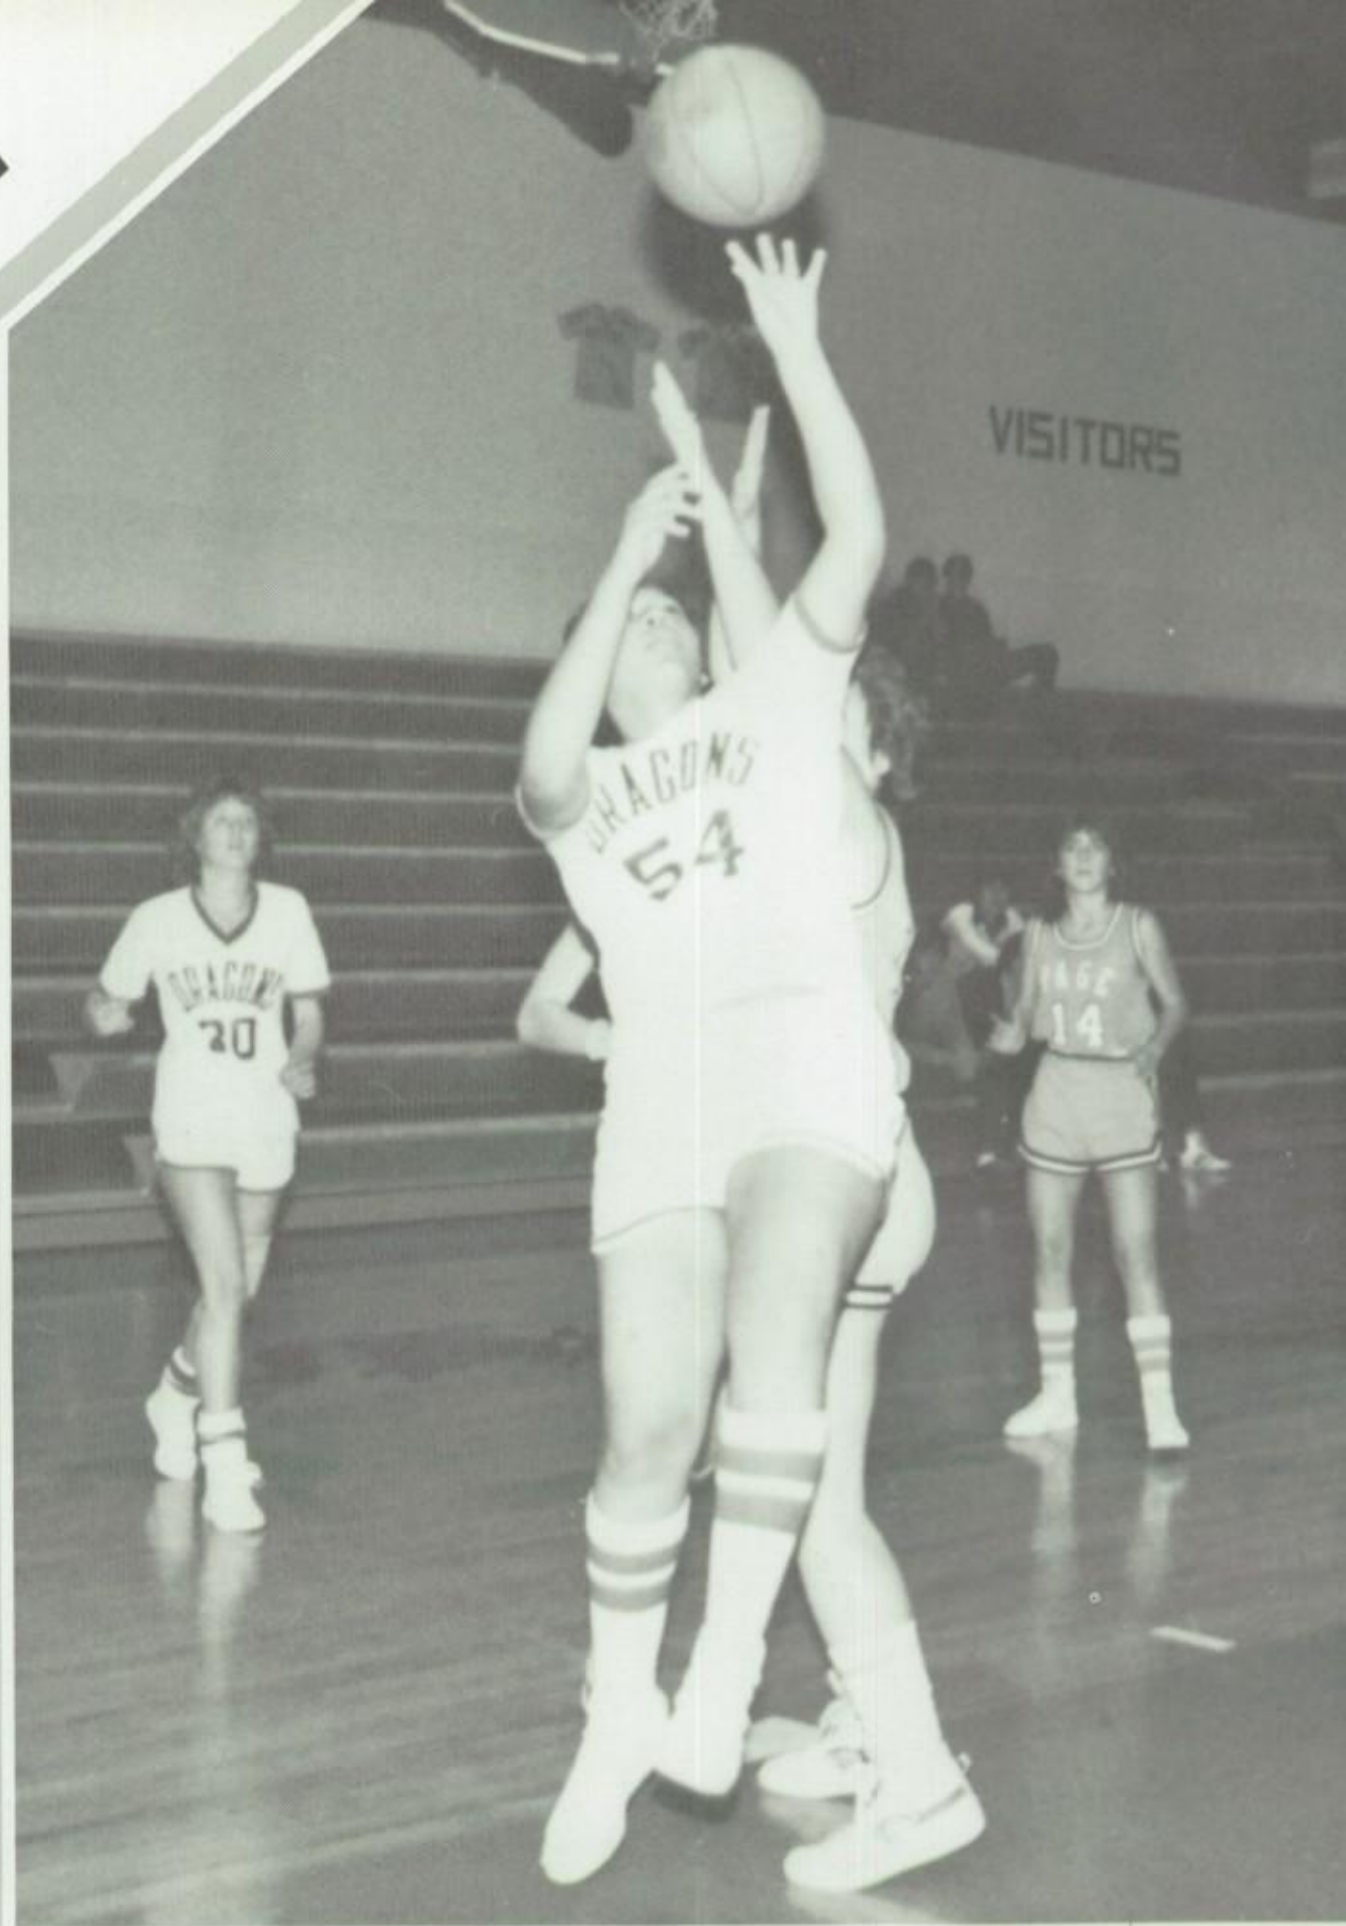

Pam Dillon snags a rebound and sails a long pass to the breaking Gail Sims who lays in another two points

The 1983 season for the Varsity girls basketball team was one filled with many exciting moments like these. Following a highly successful 12-8 season in 1982, one might expect a considerable drop-off in talent and performance. This was not the case this year as Coach West opened the season in a new gymnasium and molded together a nucleus of juniors and sophmores around two established seniors. From this he formed a competitive team which finished at 7-12. The two senior co-captains Reta Teed and Tedra Dean, provided leadership and experience for the younger players.

The lady Dragons were led by all-district performer Gail Sims and although only a sophomore averaged 14 points and 10 rebounds per game.

The most impressive, if not the most enjoyed victory of the season, was a 41-37 defeat over arch-rival Madison. The lady Dragons took control in the second period and never looked back. Sinking 8-11 crucial freethrows in the fourth quarter they protected their hard fought lead and dribbled away to victory.

With the abundance of young talent, many promising seasons can be expected in the future from the Lady Dragons

Where's The Green?

Facing the first hole at Caverns Country Club, golf team player Mike McMullen gazed over the deadly layout of the needle shaped hole. Would he play it safe with a 5 iron, or risk using a driver? Sound exciting? Well, 1983 challenged the talent and experience of the young team. With only two players with tournament experience, Mike McMullen and Jack Mellot, Coach Michie placed his emphasis on rebuilding the team for next year, while the cold, wet spring tested the dedication of the five new players. Mike McMullen led the team for scoring, followed by Jack Mellott and Jeff Sims. Two enthusiastic eighth graders raised spirits and hopes.

42-6 VICTORY

The William Monroe J.V. football team showed everyone that they could continue the winning ways of coaches Burch and Michie by their impressive 6-2 mark for the 1983-84 school year. The young dragons lost most of their defense and practically all of their offense from 1982, yet still managed to beat rival Madison for an eighth straight time. The game against Madison was a little more impressive this year, the Dragons destroyed the Mounties with a score of 42-6.

The dragons huddled on the side lines awaiting their last district game, and a chance of capturing the J.V. district championship against Buffalo Gap. They pulled it off with the help of quarterback Scott Chapman and running back Wayne Davis. A great way for the J.V. team to end the season with a score of 34-12.

A Yard To Go

39-21-48, hut-hut! Joe Fallica pitches the ball to tailback Elec Mallory, and Monroe leads 6-0.

The sound of signals being called and touchdowns scored brings to mind that football season is here. Entering the 1983 season the Varsity dragons set out with one goal in mind- that it was to win! and win they did, finishing with a record of 7-3 and third place in the competitive Skyline District.

With the majority of starters returning from last years 5-5 season, many people expected great things from the dragons. And that is what they received.

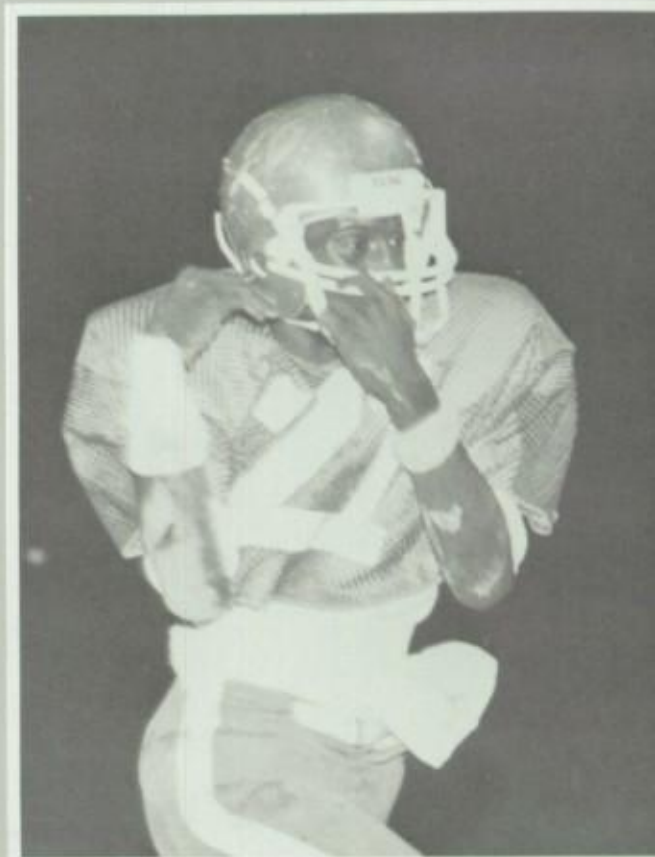

The season started with a bang, as the dragons pulled out an 8-7 victory over group AA Orange County. The first ever victory for Coach Mooney over the fighting hornets. The following week the dragons tried to make it two in a row against arch-rival Madison. However, the mounties remembered Monroe's sweet victory in 1982 and defeated us 22-0. The next few weeks were mixed with wins and losses. Two wins came against Brentsville, and Goochland, and two losses were from Fluvana, and Riverheads, giving the dragons a 3-3 mark with four games to go. This record also gave Monroe the chance to strive for a 7-3 record or lay back and call it a season. The mighty dragons did the former, ending the season with four consecutive wins against Page, Luray, Buffalo Gap, and Stuarts' Draft.

Faring well for the dragons were all-district performers, Lenard Sheler, Harry Blakey, Tim Cason, Addison Eddins, Elec Mallory, and Mike Shifflett.

The 1983 Varsity team made a successful season with 22 juniors and the majority of the defense returning, the success of the Dragons for the next few years is predictable.

Expectation

Every school has one and William Monroe High School is no exception- a school rival. Our age old rival is the Madison Mountaineers. The crowd is larger, louder and always rowdy when the Madison Mounties step over to Dragon Turf.

In their second year of existence, the B-Team shows its importance in Dragon Football, with their 28-0 victory over the Mounties.

With forty players on the varsity squad, one could easily see the valuable time and experience that can be gained from the older and more experienced players. As part of the B-Team, your most important goal is to learn and become the best that you can be.

The Basic Rules

Seven seconds left on the clock and the Monroe Dragons were down by two, when a Buffalo Gap player fouled center, Joe Wilson. The pressure builds as Joe dribbles the ball three times before aiming for the basket. The first one goes in, the next ball determines if the Dragons lose or go into overtime... SSSWISH... and the cheers go up, as the second basket is made.

The J.V. players caused this type of excitement each time they played. The team traveled to Page, where the Panthers led the game until the third quarter. Harold Sims stole the ball and tied the game on a three-point-play.

The Dragons completed the regular season with an impressive 16-3 overall record. With their undefeated record came the regular season Skyline crown and the championship game for the second straight year. This year they went "all the way" with a win over Page 48-28.

A Bright Future

The eighth grade boys basketball team had another successful season. The 4-4 record does not reflect the overall team effort that the players and coaches strive for in each game. Eighth grade basketball fundamentals stress the main aspect of the game. Playing time on the court improved the basic fundamentals. Each player participated in every game regardless of the scores. With these young stars waiting in the wings, the WMHS basketball future shines.

CHAMPS

A steal by Dwayne Yates, a pass to Mike Shifflett produced a slam dunk! William Monroe basketball is here!

Led by first team all district performers Harry Blakey and Mike Shifflett and steady senior Tim Morris, the varsity boys basketball team completed the 1983-84 season as Skyline district regular season champions.

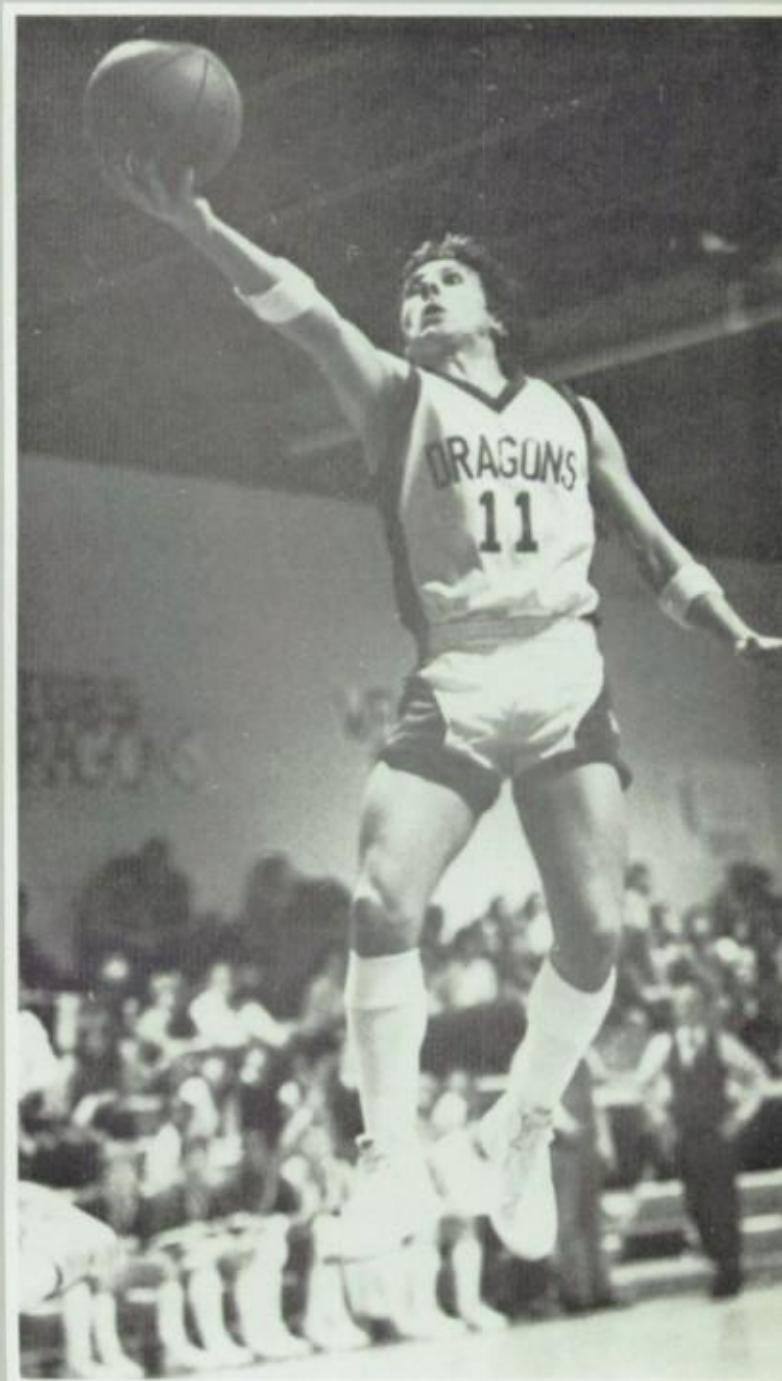

Finishing with a 9-3 district mark and an overall 13-7 record, the Dragons were at their peak heading into post season action. After defeating Stuarts Draft soundly, 62-45, for seeding position in the district tournament, the Dragons opened up post season play with a 62-57 win over Buffalo Gap. Next came the Skyline district championship game with, arch-rival, Madison County. The two teams split their regular season contests, but Madison came out on top in the championship game narrowly edging the Greene Machine 46-42.

Since the Dragons finished in first place during the regular season, they automatically qualified for the regional playoffs. As regional action began players and fans felt the electricity of high school basketball. From the gym at Western Albermarle the Greene Dragons opened regional play with a tough Central Lunenburg contest. Although Monroe raced to an early lead, the Chargers, ranked sixth in the group A polls, filled the buckets late in the game to overtake the Dragons and win, 57-54. With the loss, the Dragons finished the season at 14-8.

Team effort and spirit contributed to the winning cause; with experienced players returning, one can again expect great heights to be reached for the years to come.

A Page player down and Tim Morris lays the ball in for another two points.

Randy Carpenter's fast break down the court, gave the mighty Dragons another two points.

BASKETBALL

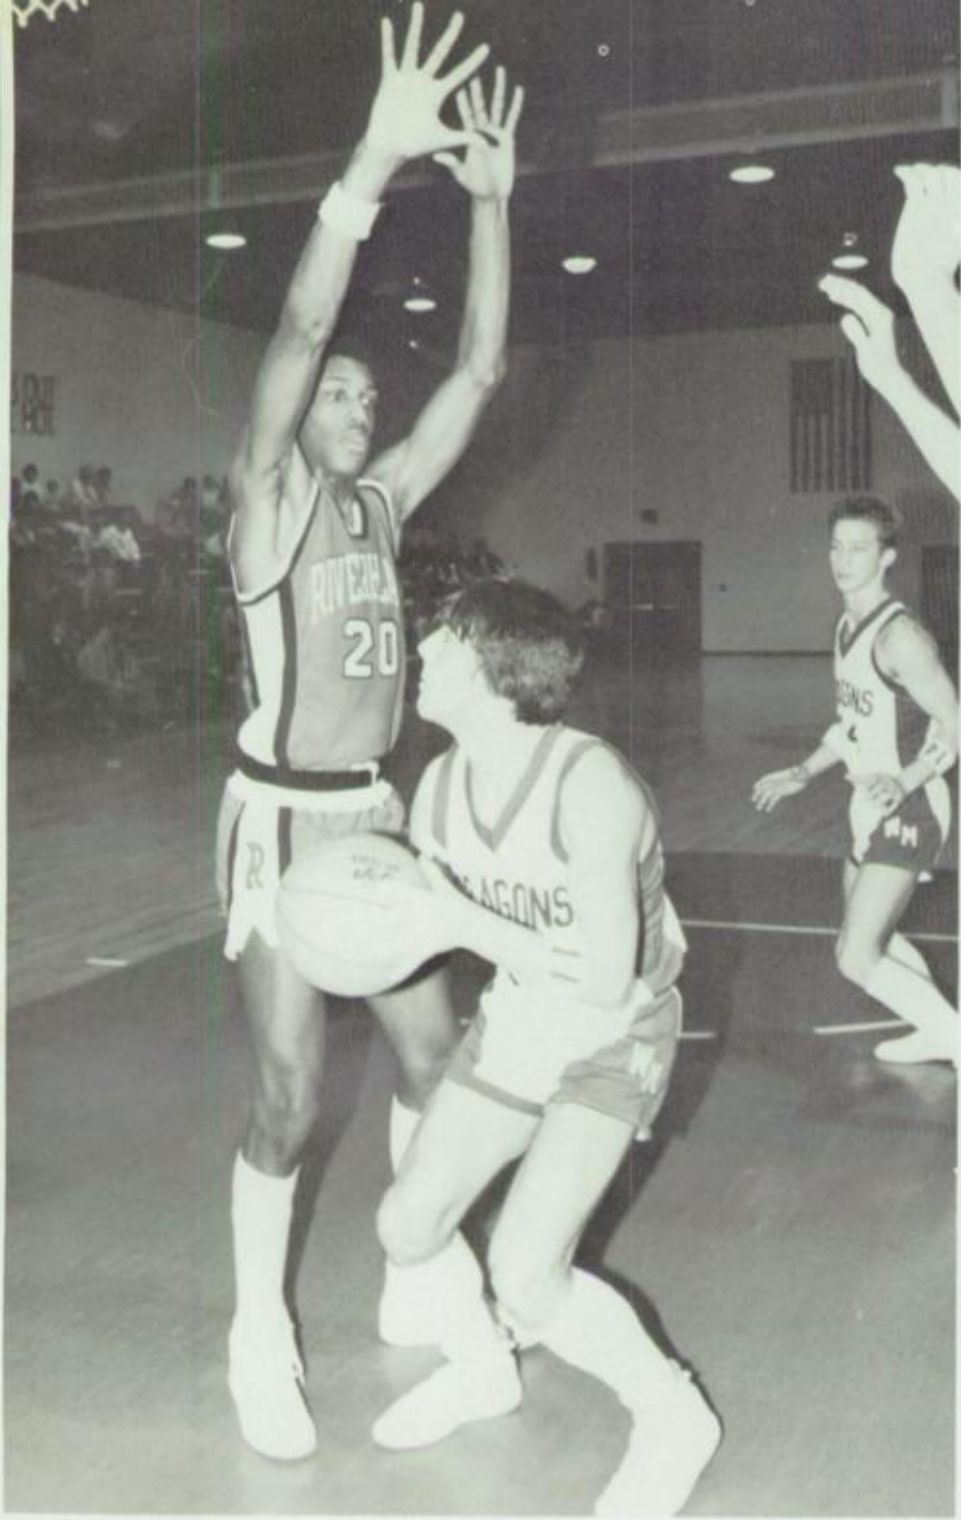

A Tough Loss

The mighty Dragons raced onto the court starting the endless rivalry. The new gym was filled with 1200 screaming fans, who felt the intensity of another Monroe-Madison athletic encounter. The play picked up with the teams trading buckets. The second quarter found the Dragons out front, but not by much. Second half play resumed with the Dragons hitting several shots. Suddenly, Harry Blakey drove down the lane, put up a shot- Swoosh! Another two points for the Dragon team! The mighty Dragons led by thirteen mid-way through the second half. However, as the game continued, Madison too hit baskets while the Dragons' torrid shooting pace cooled off. The Mounties took the lead with less than ten seconds left on the clock. The Dragons possessed the ball . . . a shot went up . . . rimmed out . . . another one . . . but it slowly slid out.

Mike Shifflett, in mid-air, slams the ball to score another two points against arch-rival, Madison.

The Sparkplugs of Spirit

V-I-C-T-O-R-Y! Whether the game is football or basketball, the cheerleaders of WMHS boost their team on to victory. The 1983-84 sports season saw a change in the number of squads. Only twelve young ladies represent the student body. The two squads consisting of six members each, cheered for football and girls basketball. They then alternated for the Varsity boys basketball season.

This year, being the first basketball season in the new gym, the cheerleaders took much pride in their school and team spirit.

51 Smiles

Glowing smiles, long gowns and nervous anticipation was obvious as each one of the fifty contestants marched around the stage.

The Junior Class, sponsors of the Miss Monroe Pageant, chose for the theme "On the Wings of Love". Karen Fazio sang the theme song, in honor of the contestants. Sheri McKay was voted "Miss Congeniality". Representing the finalists were Sandra Faulkner, Tobie Faulkner, Amy Elmore, Kim Deane, Amy Shifflett, and Tami Champion. The title of second runner-up, which ended in a tie, was awarded to Dovonna Lamb and Sara Comer. The title of first runner-up was awarded to Sherry Shifflett. We've got sssteam heat. . . These lyrics could be heard throughout the school as the swing choir performed for the PTA.

The Girls Chorus, Mixed Chorus, and Swing Chorus had an active and productive year. Their fund raising activities included computer dating for Valentines Day, flowers, candy, jewelry, and pizza sales.

MARCHING DRAGONS

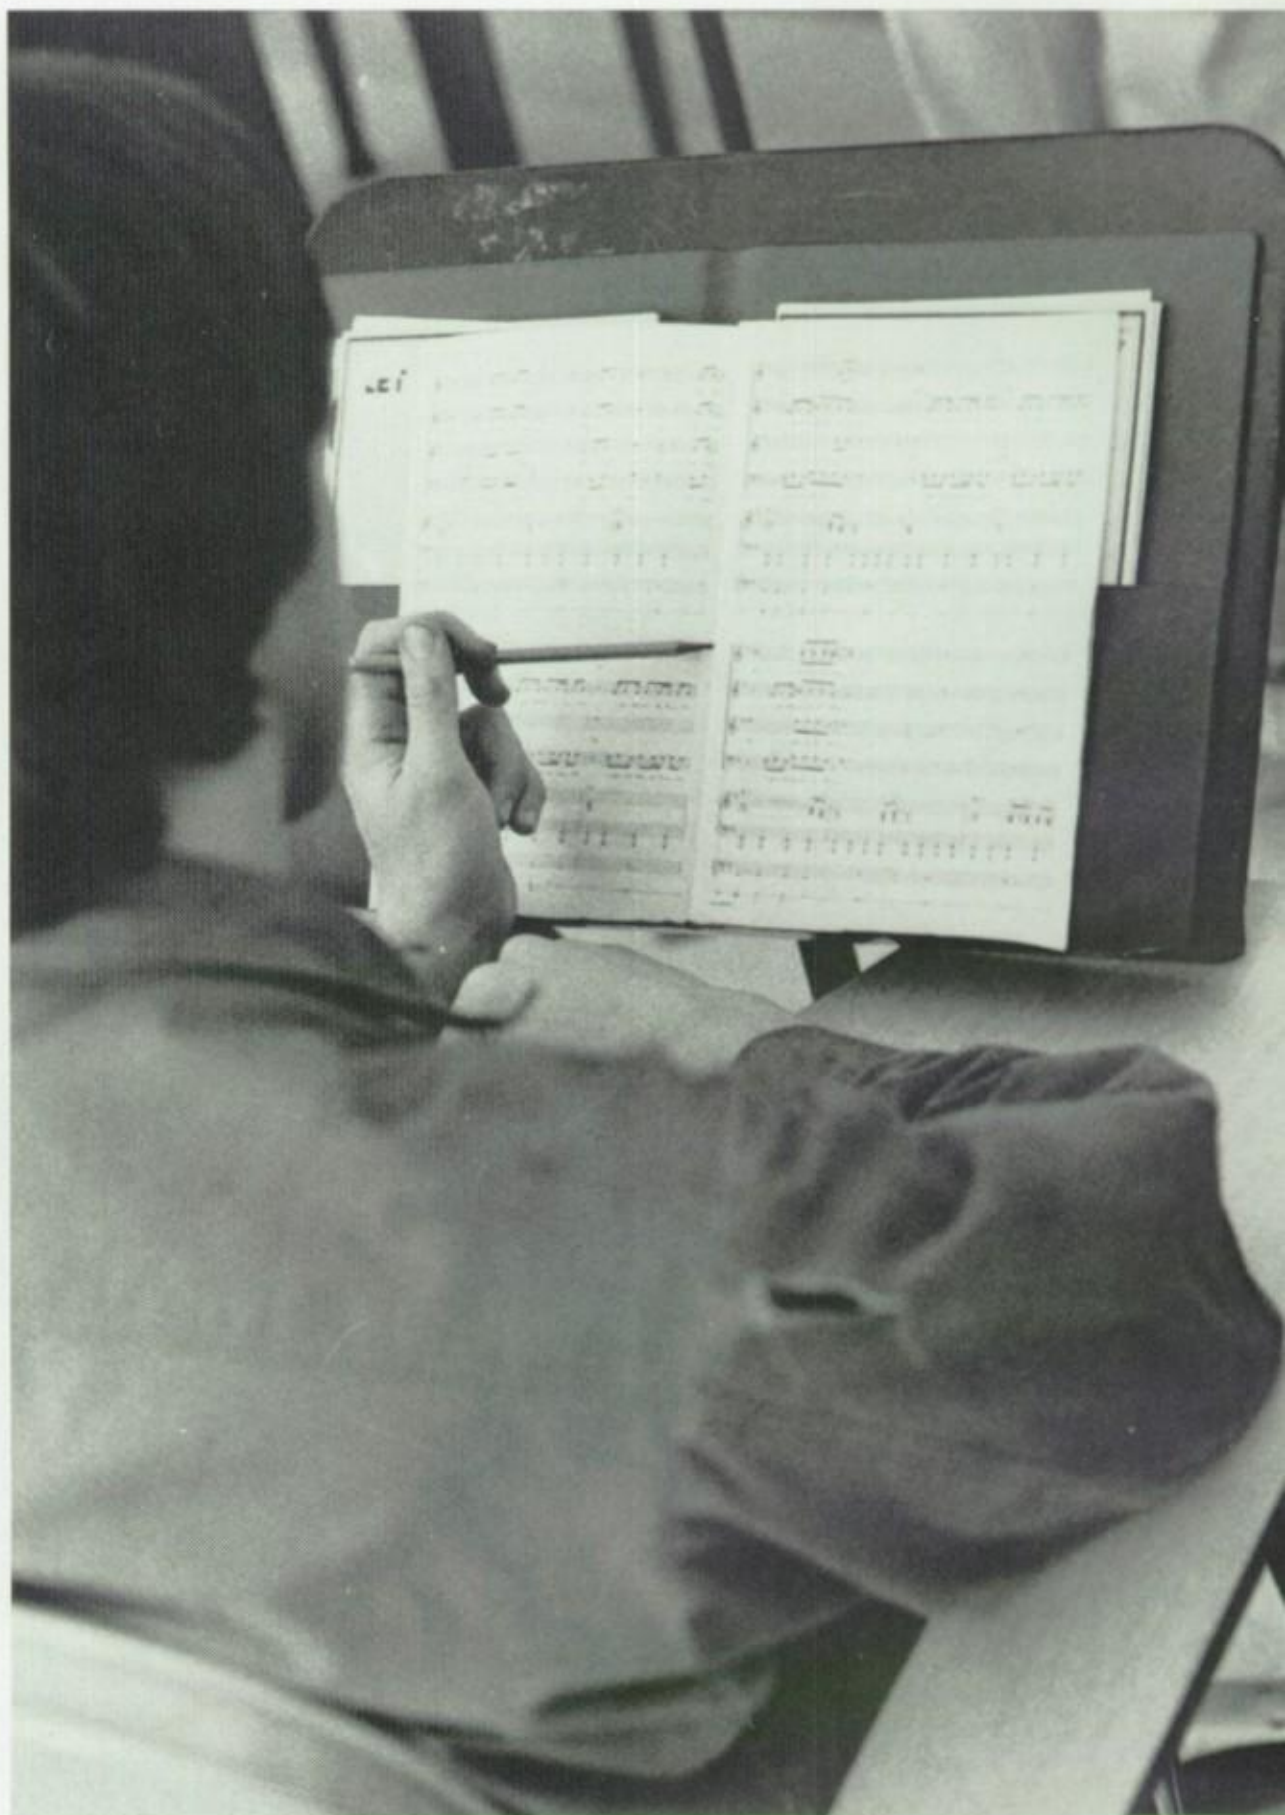

There here! After almost a year of fundraising the band has raised enough money for brand new uniforms. Fortunately; they arrived just in time to be worn at the first home football game of the year. The excitement and pride for the new Marching Dragons was enormous as director Gary Stein and drum major Dwayne Lindsay led the William Monroe Marching Dragons on the field during half time to show off their new uniforms and carefully planned marching procedures. They couldn't have looked better.

The Marching Dragons also went to the Luray Christmas Parade to show off their talent and came back 2nd place winners! The Dragon Band also gave a Christmas Concert which featured such songs as "Christmas Moods", "Alleluia", "Flashdance" and "Billie Jean". This year's student conductors, Phil Mayhew, led the band in "I'll be Home for Christmas".

The band also plans to give one concert in the spring and march in the Dogwood Parade and the Poultry Festival in April.

It was not all work, on the holidays they held parties and at Christmas a program by the children held their relatives attention. Three days a week, a short order restaurant opened for business. Catering for special community events, participating in food shows, preparing meals for senior citizens involved some HERO members.

A New Challenge

1 0 AS 20 GOSUB 5000. . . Run . . . Syntax error "Oh no not again." This may be a typical explanation heard around our newest and growing computer club. The main purpose of the computer club is to expose the members to a variety of different computer applications. Under the assistance of Mr. Don Judy, the club had a successful fund raising project.

With the additon of the new gym also came the much needed computer room, however, more computers and space will be necessary for the club to effectively instruct each individual member in this growing computer age society.

Grist Mill

The steady hum of the hammer could be heard as the FFA members constructed a roof over the grist. The grist will be used for grinding corn in the fall.

The FFA calendar is full of activities starting in August, before school with the Greene County Fair. The young farmers participated in a number of contest ranging from forestry to tractor driving contest.

The teachers and students look forward to the pig roast in February. The members dress and roast three pigs at school and with the help of the FHA provide a barbeque dinner for members and faculty.

The club tries to keep the members informed of new techniques in farming.

FHA members construct a roof over the grist.

Vica students demonstrate proper wiring.

Repairing toasters and wiring homes are fund raising activities done by the VICA members. Front Row: Dwayne Jackson, Philipp Snow,

ADS

The Ad Advantage

Excuse me sir, would you like to place an ad in our yearbook? Many companies heard this question from students from the yearbook staff. Ads came in five different sizes so the company could get just the right size ad for its advertising needs. Specializing in graphics gives a personal touch to ads.

NO RED OR GREEN

Not a stop light in sight. . . The small rural community of Greene County at the foot hills of the Blue Ridge Mountains enjoys the simplicity of life in the country. The students can be found after school in the Court Square Restaurant laughing over what happened in school and what they plan to do over the weekend. Others engage in a game of pool at Jarrels Pool Room. Horseback riding, summer sports, jobs after school and the Greene County Fair occupy students during their time away from school. The community life is a very important part of the growth of each student in his or her future.

Steve Catalona prepares the sheep for a showing at the Greene County Fair.

Norman Conley adds the finishing touches to the interior trim of the high school.

Angela Sprinkle, Lee Lumadue, Trevor and Cindy Sprinkle enjoy a ride on the roller coaster at the fair.

where's the beef. . . look under the pickle

Michael Jackson became the top male vocalist for the year.

Sharon Ashely sports the latest fashions at WMHS.

Jennifer Seales hit movie "Flashdance" created a fashion trend.

The Police hit single, "Every Breath You Take" topped the charts at number one.

Pat Benator performs her 1984 hit "Love's a Battlefield."

A New Trend

He has everything at stake.

He can't afford to lose.

He's got to make all the right moves.

Tom Cruise
All The Right Moves

The latest styles. . . the in musical groups. . . the movie you must see for 1984 all influenced the latest trends in fashion. Maniac, describes the new fashion craze of cut-up sweats featured in the hit movie "Flashdance". Everything from spiked hair for the guys, to spiked pumps for the ladies graced the scene of "in" fashion. Tom Cruise's sunglasses, spiked jewelry, black fingernail polish and poka dots founded their way into the 1984 fashion scene.

Jennifer Beals made popular the off the shoulder cut-off sweats in the hit movie "Flashdance". Tom Cruise, this years playboy, starred in the smash hits "Risky Business", "All The Right Moves", and "Losing It", where small black wrap around glasses became his trade mark. Stand up comedians Eddie Murphy and Dan Akroyd played leading roles in the comedy movie "Trading Places".

Video's, fast becoming a way of entertainment at home emphasized the fashion trend.

Michael Jackson's album, "Thriller" dominated the carts by selling 25 million copies. PYT, Beat It, and Billie Jean were three songs that leaped to the spot consequently.

Super artists like The Police, Def Leppard, Pat Benatar broke into the charts with the success of "Synchronicity" "Pyromania", and "Live from Earth". On the country charts Alabama topped the charts with their album "The Closer You Get". Kenny Rogers and Dolly Parton had the top hit single, "Islands In the Stream". Movies, Music, and fashions moves toward the strange, the bazaar, and the unexpected.

The movie, "All The Right Moves" played for six weeks at the Terrance in Charlottesville.

The Next Move

The game board lays empty, each essential move completed toward the final goal . . . education. Through the trials and tribulations of the 1983-84 school year the Eighth grade, pawns, captured the Freshman, knights. The knights moved forward and conquered the Sophomore, bishops. The bishops' confidence gained the Junior rooks' position. The rook succeeded in maneuvering to the Senior rank of queen. The mighty senior queen captured the ultimate goal in the game of educational chess, the king, the diploma. The game over for the year, and all moves completed, leaves the student to conquer the next move, in yet another game of educational chess.

Nicey Durrer adds the finishing touches to his Clay sculpture.

Todd Early learns basic wiring techniques in Electricity I class.

Jennifer Fitzhugh, Audra Butler, and Rhonda Henshaw display the latest punk look during spirit week.

Sean.
really good looking guy.
It's been a while having you as a
